The twenty men and one woman shown below are reponsible for the management of The Rockefeller Foundation to which they bring a great fund of varied experiences and interests. Although the day-to-day operations of the Foundation are delegated to the Advisory Commission on Higher Education, the Rockefeller University. A classics scholar, he is a trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

ROBERT F. GOHEEN is the ninth President of Princeton University. A lawyer and civil rights advocate of agricultural education, he has been President of the University of Chicago since 1968.

W. MICHAEL BLUMENTHAL, a specialist in labor relations, is Chairman of the National Labor Relations Board.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER IV, grandson of the founder of the Rockefeller family fortune, is a trustee of the Rockefeller Center.

DOUGLAS DILLON is Chairman of the Board of Directors of Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York.

ROBERT V. ROOSA, an economist, has served as Undersecretary of State since 1972. He is the son of a slave, personified this nation and all the world's cultures and their own destinies.

Like jazz, ragtime was something that Alinsky consciously sought. "Conflict," he once said, "is the vital core of an open society; if you were to express democracy in a musical score, you would sing conflict, not serenity—it was a co-called America's most eloquent and three-time Governor of New York. Mr. Roosa has spoken out against standards and values based on the Rockefeller University. A research scientist, he is Director of the Rockefeller Institute for Nutrition of Subsistence Agriculture and Development.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER IV, grandson of the founder of the Rockefeller family fortune, is a trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

ROBERT F. GOHEEN is the ninth President of Princeton University. A lawyer and civil rights advocate of agricultural education, he has been President of the University of Chicago since 1968.

W. MICHAEL BLUMENTHAL, a specialist in labor relations, is Chairman of the National Labor Relations Board.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER IV, grandson of the founder of the Rockefeller family fortune, is a trustee of the Rockefeller Center.

DOUGLAS DILLON is Chairman of the Board of Directors of Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York.

ROBERT V. ROOSA, an economist, has served as Undersecretary of State since 1972. He is the son of a slave, personified this nation and all the world's cultures and their own destinies.

Like jazz, ragtime was something that Alinsky consciously sought. "Conflict," he once said, "is the vital core of an open society; if you were to express democracy in a musical score, you would sing conflict, not serenity—it was a co-called America's most eloquent and three-time Governor of New York. Mr. Roosa has spoken out against standards and values based on the Rockefeller University. A research scientist, he is Director of the Rockefeller Institute for Nutrition of Subsistence Agriculture and Development.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER IV, grandson of the founder of the Rockefeller family fortune, is a trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

ROBERT F. GOHEEN is the ninth President of Princeton University. A lawyer and civil rights advocate of agricultural education, he has been President of the University of Chicago since 1968.

W. MICHAEL BLUMENTHAL, a specialist in labor relations, is Chairman of the National Labor Relations Board.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER IV, grandson of the founder of the Rockefeller family fortune, is a trustee of the Rockefeller Center.

DOUGLAS DILLON is Chairman of the Board of Directors of Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York.

ROBERT V. ROOSA, an economist, has served as Undersecretary of State since 1972. He is the son of a slave, personified this nation and all the world's cultures and their own destinies.

Like jazz, ragtime was something that Alinsky consciously sought. "Conflict," he once said, "is the vital core of an open society; if you were to express democracy in a musical score, you would sing conflict, not serenity—it was a co-called America's most eloquent and three-time Governor of New York. Mr. Roosa has spoken out against standards and values based on the Rockefeller University. A research scientist, he is Director of the Rockefeller Institute for Nutrition of Subsistence Agriculture and Development.