

The Trilateral Commission warmly thanks the many generous financial supporters making its work possible. Funds are raised in each of the three regions, for that region's participation and shared program expenses. Within North America, funds are raised separately in Canada, Mexico, and the United States.

The U.S. group deeply appreciates the vital help provided by many supporters. The following U.S. foundations, corporations and corporate foundations, and individuals and individual or family foundations have provided $30,000 or more over the past three fiscal years (since July 1, 1998):
